OUTSIDERS TO PAY EXTRA FOR SERVICES OF FIRE FIGHTERS

Trips Beyond Settlement Limits To Be Charged

RATES ARE FIXED

Measure Designed To Increase City Revenues

Beginning July 1 the Fire Department of the International Settlement will not go to fires outside of the limits of the Settlement save in cases in which special arrangements previously have been made. This departure is announced in the current issue of the Municipal Gazette and follows some little discussion held in recent months by the Municipal Council on the general question of the services of the Department outside of the Settlement Limits.

"In the past," says the Municipal Gazette, "the Fire Brigade has, whenever possible, attended fires outside of Settlement limits without definite obligations on the part of the concerned to make payment for such services. In some cases a voluntary payment has been made, but the sum total received has been negligible. In effect, therefore, almost the entire cost of such services has fallen upon ratepayers in and outside the Settlement.

COUNCIL'S POSITION

"There is admitedly no obligation on the Council's part to provide such services, and it might therefore be contended that it should refuse to do so any longer, particularly since the cost is not by any means inconsiderable having regard to the frequent calls made for such services, as also to the present high cost of the equipment and maintenance of the Brigade.

"To admit this contention, however, would in the Council's opinion be to take a rather narrow view, having regard to the fact that Settlement and outside Settlement interests in the matter of fire protection as in many other matters are so closely identified.

"Members have, therefore, concluded that, so far as the calls made upon it in connection with fires inside the Settlement, or in or upon properties outside the Settlement, in respect of which municipal rates are levied will permit, the brigade should attend other fires in the discretion of the Chief Officer, on the basis, however, that reasonable payment should be made for services thus rendered.

"Notice is accordingly hereby given that with effect from July 1 the Brigade will not attend any fire outside Settlement limits other than in or upon premises in respect of which municipal rates are levied, except in those cases in which the owners of the property concerned have previous to such fire signed an undertaking in the prescribed form, obtainable on application to the undersigned, that, in the event of a fire, they would like the attendance of the Brigade should such be possible and will make payment for the service rendered in accordance with the published scale of charges for the time being in force."

SCALE OF CHARGES

The scale of charges for services of the department outside the Settlement limits is announced to be as follows:

For Appliances:—Fire Float Tls. 300 per day or any part thereof for the first week and thereafter Tls. 200 per day or any part thereof.

Motor Pump Tls. 30 for the first hour or any part thereof, and Tls. 10 for each succeeding hour or any part thereof.

Motor Tender Tls. 20 for the first hour or any part thereof, and Tls. 5 for each succeeding hour or any part thereof.

In the case of damage to appliances occasioned by the fire, the actual cost of repairs or replacement will be charged. If not so occasioned, no charge will be made.

For Personnel:—Officer in charge Tls. 20 for the first hour or any part thereof, and Tls. 10 for each succeeding hour or any part thereof.

Other Senior Officers Tls. 10 for the first hour or any part thereof, and Tls. 2.50 for each succeeding hour or any part thereof.

Assistant Station and Sub-officers Tls 5 for the first hour or any part thereof, and Tls. 2

COUNCIL ACTS TO HALT CROWDING OF TRAM CARS

Recommendations Forwarded To Enclose Driver's Platforms

Recommendations that the driver's platforms on all tramcars be separated entirely from the space allotted to passengers and that, should experience show the safety doors or similar devices to be effective in checking overcrowding, they be installed on all cars have been forwarded to the tramways by the Council following a report made by the Watch Committee.

The specific recommendations are:

"(1) That the driver's platform on all cars should be so arranged as to separate the driver entirely from passengers and thus render impossible any interference with or obstruction by the latter of the former in the performance of his duties, and that the Company should be required to take the necessary steps to this end.

"(2) That should experience show that safety doors or similar devices (such as have already been stimulated by the Council in the case of new rolling stock and as are the subject of discussion at the present time between the Company and the Police) are really effective in checking overcrowding by preventing persons from leaving or boarding a car or trailer while in motion or from riding on footboards, the Comanpy should be required to equip all its rolling stock with such doors or devices.

"(3) That a Notification should be issued (a) directing attention to Traffic Regulation No. 32, which provides 'No. Person shall stand or sit on or otherwise occupy the footboard of a vehicle in motion on a highway,' and (b) giving due warning of the Council's intention to prosecute all those disregarding this Regulation."

DISMANTLING OF OLD FIRE ALARMS IS INAUGURATED

Council Will Instal And Control More Comprehensive System

Action to put into effect at once the suggestion of Chief Officer Pett of the Fire Department that the Shanghai Municipal Corporation install a new fire alarm system under its own control and abandon that now maintained by the Shanghai Mutual Telephone Company is revealed in a series of letters exchanged recently between the council and the telephone company which are made public in this week's issue of the Municipal Gazette.

As a result of the correspondence, the telephone company has agreed for the nominal compensation of Tls. 100 to remove the existing street fire alarm system, and instructions have already been given for dismantling the system as soon as possible. This will leave the Municipal Corporation free to install its own system, in accordance with Chief Pett's suggestion. It is expected that he will make arrangements for the purchase of the new system while on his present long leave.

Some time ago Chief Officer Pett reported to the council the inadequacy of the present system, stating that it is not only quite unsuited to the requirements of the Settlement but is actually hampering the brigade and should therefore be removed as early as possible. The Council has concurred in the belief that the system should be under its control, and plans are being made for an extensive installation.

Another Hitch In Reparation Plan

(Reuter's Service)

Paris, June 6.—The calming European waters have again been troubled by the announcement of the postponement of today's meeting of the Reparations Commission to discuss the reduction of the German indemnity.

Behind the postponement is believed to be a deadlock between the International Bankers' Committee and the Allied Governments on the subject of granting a loan to Germany, on which Germany's recently promised reforms are conditional.

The bankers evince disinclination to father a large loan while the present high figure of reparations is prejudicial to the chances of its repayment and France as the largest beneficiary by reparations does not consent to the reduction of her claims, without receiving corresponding advantages, the nature of which has not at present been revealed.

COUNCIL PUTS RESTRICTIONS ON LOTTERIES AND RAFFLES

Drastic Ruling Announced In 'Gazette'

POLICE ASKED IT

Certain Exception To Be Made For Charitable Schemes

Virtually all lotteries of magnitude and raffles in general are to be prohibited in the International Settlement under new restrictions that have lately received the approval of the Municipal Council. Under exactly defined conditions lotteries and raffles for charitable purposes may be held and as a second classification lotteries to assist sales of articles of trade may be countenanced, but in both of these cases restrictions are drastic and are subject to issuance of specific licenses.

According to purposes set forth in the current Municipal Gazette. . . "Lottery licenses are to be granted only on application made on the requisite form giving the required particulars of the lottery and provided that such lottery comes under one or the other of the following heads and complies with the conditions set forth. All other lotteries to be prohibited.

"(a) Lotteries or Raffles for Charitable Purposes.—No cash prizes; only prizes in kind permitted. The charitable purposes, the parties conducting the lottery and the conditions attached thereto to be approved by the Council.

"(b) Lotteries to Assist the Sale of an Article of Trade.—No cash prizes; only prizes in kind and none to be of a greater value than $10. No such lottery to be licensed until the Council is satisfied as to the bona fides of such lottery and the persons conducting the same."

Action to restrict lotteries and raffles is being taken by the Council with the end of fixing a definite policy of procedure. The matter was presented in the form of a report of the Commissioner of Police calling attention to a lottery now being conducted by a mercantile establishment here and suggesting that the time is opportune for the Council to take action. In connection with the report of the lottery being conducted by the commercial concern—as this is said to be a lottery for cash prizes and for which no authorisation has been given—the Council is notifying the company in question that the lottery it is conducting must be discontinued forthwith.

Paris, June 7.—It is semi-officially foreshadowed that the French economic experts will attend the earlier sittings of the forthcoming Hague Conference from which the Soviet delegates are excluded, but that they will not take part in the later sittings when the Russians are admitted if the latter are unwilling to abide by the conditions laid down in the recent memorandum by M. Poincare.

LILLIAN RUSSELL, NOTED BEAUTY, IS DEAD AT 61

Ex-Actress Won Fame For War Work In America

(Reuter's Service)

New York, June 6.—The death is announced of the well-known actress, Lillian Russell (Mrs. Alexander P. Moore), at the age of 61 years.

Only a few years ago, Lillian Russell was lecturing on "how to live a hundred years," and now comes the news of her death which will awake a flood of reminiscences among those who first heard her as a ballad singer in Tony Pastor's theater in the late seventies. Her great success was made with the Casino opera company in light opera, following which she joined Weber and Fields in 1899. Later she starred in the McCaull Opera Company, organising her own company after several years of successful appearances in the United States and England.

Miss Russell was married four times, her first husband being the conductor of the Pinafore company in whose chorus she made her operatic debut. Her work in Red Cross and Liberty Bond campaigns during the war was most successful and her associates declared she merited substantial recognition on the part of the government.

Subsequently the Duke of York drove in the carriage with the King through streets of cheering crowds to the Palace. A constant stream of boats is arriving, crowded with visitors.

A big steamer with a Royal delegation and military band will leave tomorrow to meet the Royal bride, while three seaplanes will meet the Royal yacht bringing the King and Queen of Rumania who are at Dubravitza, and will head the procession to Belgrade.

ERIN ELECTION RETURNS REVEAL SORRY TANGLE

Seventeen Treaty And As Many Anti-Treaty Candidates Win

(Reuter's Service)

London, June 6.—The completed election returns from all Ireland show that 17 Treaty and 17 anti-Treaty candidates have been returned unopposed, and that 90 members will contest twenty constituencies.

London, June 6.—The Pettigo affair has revived acute party differences in London. The Conservative organs applaud the operation as a salutary example to the rebels but the Liberals are apprehensive that it may develop into a new war of reconquest in Ireland and counsel patience in view of the difficulties of inexperienced statesmen in dealing with a very complex situation.

The South Irish official version says that Pettigo is Free State except a portion of one street and denies that the Free Staters previously fired on British troops. On the other hand it declares that as the congregation was leaving mass on Sunday shells burst on the adjacent hills and immediately afterwards the British rushed the town with armored cars and ordered the Free Staters to evacuate which they did, but the retreating "troops" were fired on.

The citizens of Belfast today are very cheerful, hailing the Pettigo affair as a "glorious victory" and anticipating the speedy expulsion of the irregulars from their stronghold in the Belleek salient where the task of the British troops is more formidable as the Belleek triangle is not merely more extensive but more easily defended. Its base extends for eight miles on the northern shore of Lough Erne. And at the end a fort, situated in Donegal, garrisoned by irregulars and flying the Green Flag commands the town of Belleek.

The people of Belfast claim that it is impossible for Ulster to exercise authority in Belleek while the irregulars hold the fort. Stout resistance is expected as the defenders have lost no time in building sandbag defences against pipsqueaks which damaged the morale of the defenders of Pettigo.

Surprises are contained in the Irish nominations for the elections which are now being received. There will be contests in Dublin City, Dublin County and the National University.

The pro-Treaty member, Mr. Darrell Figgis, Secretary of the Constitution Drafting Committee, appears as Independent candidate for the County of Dublin, where Mr. Johnson, Secretary of the Irish Labor Party, is also standing. Alderman O'Neill, Lord Mayor of Dublin, and Mr. T. D. Dermat Byrne, formerly member of the Imperial House of Commons, both pro-Treaty men, are standing as unattached Independents for the Mid Division of Dublin City. A full number of Coalition candidates, all sitting Members, including Countess Markiewicz, have been nominated for each of the Dublin constituencies.

The nominations show that with the exception of Messrs. De Valera, Stack, Finlan, Lynch and Beaslai, every Dail leader, pro-Treaty or anti-Treaty, will have to go to the poll. Mr. De Valera, owing to the withdrawal of four Independents, has secured a walk-over in County Clare.

U. S. NAVY MEN GET FIRST LOOK AT CHINA HERE

2,000 From Destroyer Fleet Cheer Comrades On In Baseball Game

Although no definite entertainment plans for the officers and men of the American destroyer fleet in port here are scheduled for today, a number of informal events centering chiefly at the Navy "Y" are in prospect.

The 2,000 or more American gobs had their first look at Shanghai yesterday. Everywhere throughout the city they were in evidence. Hundreds flocked out to the Race Course in the afternoon to cheer their comrades on in the baseball game with the Shanghai team. A program of motion pictures and entertainment stunts was given at the Navy "Y" in the evening.

In connection with the visit of the fleet here, Chaplain B. F. Huske, U. S. N., who has been assigned to the destroyer squadron, is in Shanghai to aid in arrangements for the entertainment of the men during their stay in Shanghai. Chaplain Huske is co-operating with the Navy "Y" and others who have undertaken to provide for the tars. He has expressed himself as delighted with the program already outlined by Mr. Paul W. Brown of the "Y" and will be glad to co-operate with any individuals or organisations who may want to entertain any of the gobs. He may be reached through the Navy "Y" at 6 Avenue Edward VII.

In addition to the men from the destroyers, Shanghai is entertaining the officers and crew of the U. S. S. Abarenda, supply transport, which arrived in port yesterday noon from Vladivostok.

LI YUAN-HUNG PUTS IN TERMS ON WHICH HE WILL TAKE JOB

Sends Circular Telegram To All Provinces

HITS AT TUCHUNS

Disbandment Of Soldiery Is Main Consideration

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Peking, June 7.—General Li Yuan-hung in a circular telegram to the provinces lays down the terms on which he is ready to resume the Presidency. The principal points are the abolition of Tuchuns, Tutungs and other military regional commandants.

The disbandment of superfluous troops, and an agreement on the part of such military commandants that they come to Peking to discuss reconstruction, adding that otherwise it would be futile for him to undertake the Presidency with any reasonable hopes of success. A number of Mongolian Princes are going to Tientsin to offer congratulations to General Li Yuan-hung. Mr. Tung Kang and Mr. Li Ting-hsin are also going to Tientsin this afternoon as administrative representatives to urge General Li Yuan-hung to come to Peking.

Sir Reginald Arthur Gamble left for Shanghai this morning from where he will sail for Vancouver on the Empress of Canada. During his absence Mr. Strickland will carry his duties as Associate Chief Inspector of the Chinese Government Salt Administration.

A mandate issued this morning appoints Mr. C. T. Wang as chief of the delegation which is to negotiate with the Japanese regarding Shantung. The other delegates are Messrs. Chi Ching, Yen Tze-ching, Lu Meng-siung, Tang Tsai-chang and Liu Tung-tang.

LI'S TERMS

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Peking, June 7.—General Wu Pei-fu and General Tsao Kun interviewed by Reuter's representative at Paotingfu yesterday morning said that General Li Yuan-hung would doubtless go to Peking to assume the Presidency but he must first satisfy himself regarding the legality of his reinstatement. They said that General Li Yuan-hung would probably occupy the Presidency for five months after which the National Assembly would be appointed. What happened after that would rest with the Assembly.

Although General Li Yuan-hung's reinstatement and the recall of the Old Parliament are intimately related it did not follow that the Old Parliament would only function for five months. It would certainly function until the Assembly is elected. Matters connected with the Cabinet must remain in abeyance until General Li Yuan-hung assumed office. The Premier would then be appointed and he will select his own Cabinet but a change is not likely as far as the Ministers of Finance and Communications are concerned as they are honest and able men in whom the people placed their confidence.

DR. YEN'S POSITION

Dr. W. W. Yen is also an outstanding figure possessing public confidence. General Tsao Kun added that when General Chang Tso-lin nominated Mr. Liang Shih-yi for the Premiership he opposed it and suggested Dr. W. W. Yen. Neither General Wu Pei-fu nor General Tsao Kun had heard the report that General Chang Shou-tseng would be offered the Premiership. In any case they are determined that honest men shall occupy official positions as far as possible in the future. One of the first things to be taken up after General Li Yuan-hung's assumption of office would be the consolidation of the big Government debts. When this has been launched other smaller obligations would be grouped similarly with the object of funding them. Thus the Government and people would know exactly where the country stood and would be able to strike a balance between revenue and expenditure. General Wu Pei-fu remarked that the Central Government must receive sufficient revenue for administrative expenditure and that the provinces

Business Men In Japan Unmoved By Cabinet Row

(Reuter Pacific Service)

Osaka, June 7.—The Osaka markets are steady and have been little affected by the resignation of the Cabinet. Businessmen generally welcome the change and do not show any preference with regard to Viscount Takahashi's successor, provided his financial policy shows stricter retrenchment, which, although it will have a temporary adverse effect on the markets, is absolutely necessary in order to normalise prices and other economic conditions.

The leading newspapers here are triumphant over the downfall of the Seiyukai Cabinet and even conservative businessmen openly declare that they are "delighted."

The Asahi, Mainichi and Jiji are unanimous in vigourously opposing the appointment as Premier of Viscount Kiyoura or "any other bureaucratic anti-Party statesman," and demand Viscount Kato, because it is constitutional to give a chance to the leader of the opposition.

Viscount Takahashi retains a fairly strong following in Osaka in spite of his apparent failure, which is interpreted not as due to his inefficiency but to his unwillingness to be dictated to by Party interests. The Mainichi voices this view in an editorial article today.

Osaka's hatred of the Seiyukai appears to be due to alleged political interference with business and the alleged appalling extent of corruption.

(Eastern News Agency)

Tokio, June 7.—As regards the question of the succeeding Cabinet, Marquis Matsukata, the Keeper of the Privy Seal and concurrently a member of the "Genro", and Viscount Kiyoura, the President of the Privy Council, at the call of the Prince Regent today, repaired to the Imperial Palace, where His Royal Highness questioned their views relating to relief measures in connection with the political situation.

In reply, they stated that they would make a report after careful consideration, and took leave of the Prince Regent. Then they had a deliberate consultation at the residence of Marquis Matsukata.

In the afternoon, Viscount Kiyoura paid a visit to Prince Saionji, who is now indisposed at Okitus. It is alleged that Viscount Kiyoura has declared that he would by no means comply with any recommendation whatever, though he would exert himself as a go-between towards the formation of the succeeding Cabinet.

Though there is none as yet who has started positive movements for the formation of a new Cabinet, the Kenseikai Party, the opposition, insists that the succeeding Cabinet should naturally be formed by the party, leaders of which are now busily engaged in the political world. In the meantime, the opposition held a meeting of its leaders at the residence of Viscount Kato, the president, discussing for many hours steps to be taken by the party.

In spite of the fact that M. P.'s of the party in local districts are arriving here one after another with the result that the party has become naturally lively, it has not yet come to any definite conclusion.

On the other hand, there are not a few among the M. P.'s of the Seiyukai Party, who argue that the succeeding Cabinet shall be such a one as will have a full understanding with the Seiyukai Party. They are thus to all appearances attaching much importance on the one hand to Admiral Baron Kato, Minister of the Navy, and Baron Saito, Governor General of Chosen, and are on the other expecting that Viscount Takahashi will once more receive an Imperial command to form a new Cabinet.

Tokio, June 7.—With regard to the question as to who will form the new Cabinet no agreement has yet been found, as there are so many different views. It is true, however, that Viscount Kato, President of the Kenseikai Party, Viscount Kiyoura, President of the Privy Council, and Baron Goto, Mayor of Tokio City, are the most promising candidates.

In this connection newspapers here are unanimous in stating that it is absurd to bring about an intermediate Cabinet and that if is natural and proper that the succeeding Cabinet should be chosen at once.

(China Press Service)

Tokio, June 7.—The leaders of the Seiyukai have agreed to request Takahashi to retain office giving him full power to oust and recall members of the cabinet.

The vernacular press says that Takahashi has lost considerable prestige owing to his failure to carry out the reconstruction of the cabinet plans during May.

(Eastern News Agency)

Tokio, June 6.—As previously reported, Premier Takahashi's second plan for effecting the reconstruction of the Cabinet has been brought to naught on account of stubborn opposition on the part of Mr. Motoda, Minister of Railway, and Mr. Nakahashi, Minister of Education. In consequence, Premier Takahashi took the entire responsibility upon himself for the lack of unity in the Cabinet and today at 11:30 a.m. presented the resignations of all Cabinet Ministers to the Crown Prince Regent, who, however, asked the Premier to conduct government affairs till further imperial notice.

Since Premier Takahashi failed to recommend anyone as his successor on the occasion of his presentation of resignations to the Prince Regent, it naturally follows that His Royal Highness will ask the opinions of the Genro or Elder Statesmen as to a competent successor.

In this connection, the Kenseikai, or opposition, demands that the succeeding Cabinet shall be formed by that party. But in view of the present state of affairs, it does not appear that this ambition on the part of the Kenseikai will be realised. There is no forecast as to whether the succeeding Cabinet will be brought into existence in the form of an intermediate one which has a good understanding with the Seiyukai Party or that based on a third political party.

At any rate, about the prospect of the Cabinet question no one is in a position to forecast with any degree of accuracy at the present time. Most promising candidates, however, are Viscount Kiyoura, President of the Privy Council, Baron Goto, Mayor of Tokio City, and Admiral Count Yamamoto, former Premier.

(Eastern News Agency)

Tokio, June 6.—Following the presentation to the Crown Prince Regent of the resignation of the whole Cabinet, the Seiyukai Party this afternoon held a general meeting of its members at its head-office here. Messrs. Okazaki and Kawahara, managers of the party, reported on the progress of their exhaustive efforts to bring about an amicable settlement of the Cabinet question and hoped that the members of the party would strengthen the union more than ever.

Then they made a demand to strike off from the list of members of the Seiyukai the names of Mr. Motoda, Minister of Railways, Mr. Nakahashi, Minister of Education and four other M. P.'s, one or two interpellations were made. The result was that the atmosphere suddenly became strained, abusing voices and high words ensuing.

The meeting was thus about to be thrown into a great confusion, when the words, "It's useless to interpellate," spread throughout the debating room. The meeting then was adjourned without any explanations being made by the management of the party.

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Tokio, June 6.—The news of the resignation of the Cabinet, which was not based on political causes but merely resulted from disagreement on the part of the Ministers on the question of the reconstruction of the Cabinet, was received with very deep regret and disappointment by disinterested parties, who had expected that Viscount Takahashi, in view of his experience in finance, would be able to develop the international peace policy promoted by the Washington Conference.

His successor, the choice of whom is expected to take time, is considered most likely to be a non-Party politician with an understanding with the Majority Party.

Marquis Saionji, whose state of health is reported to have become worse, is at present unable to come to Tokio for consultation.

The Seiyukai Party this afternoon decided to expel Mr. Nakahashi, the Minister of Education, and Mr. Motoda, the Minister of Railways, and two others from the Party as being responsible for the present crisis.

must contribute each a fair share to it.

In reply to questions regarding opium cultivation and traffic, General Wu Pei-fu said that while he was unable to pledge for the incoming administration, he was quite prepared to guarantee that there would be no cultivation in the regions over which he was able to exercise influence. Concerning the military situation, General Wu Pei-fu said that he trusted there would be no further fighting either at Shanhaikuan or elsewhere as he detested the killing of his own countrymen. Civil warfare was immoral and he trusted there would be no more in China.

Replying to a question as to when he might be expected in Peking General Tsao Kun replied that that was in the lap of the gods. Nothing could be decided in that respect until General Li Yuan-hung arrived at Peking, after which he would issue a mandate calling the Old Parliament to Peking. Dr. Sun Yat-sen had stated that Mr. Hsu Shih-chang's presidency was illegal, adding that he was the only legal President. Still, they were both hopeful with regard to the future and determined that the country should have a fair chance of rehabilitation by the introduction of a purer political atmosphere. There had been so much dishonesty and such corruption that the people demanded a thorough cleansing.

Tientsin, June 7.—General Wu Pei-fu's advance guard has warned all foreigners to leave Shanhaikwan on the Manchurian border within twenty-four hours as severe fighting is anticipated with Chang's rearguard.

(Eastern News Agency)

Peking, June 7.—It is reported in Government circles that General Wu Pei-fu has of late held a conference with leading military officers, as the result of which it has been decided to convene a national conference of all provinces and to ask the conference to pass a resolution for the organisation of a central administrative body with Wang Shih-chen, Tsao Kun, Wellington Koo, and Wang Chung-hui as its figureheads, provided General Li Yuan-hung refuses to the end to resume the Presidency.

IODISED THROAT TABLETS Allay all irritation

THE General Public is hereby notified that supplies of "IXL" IODISED THROAT TABLETS, the remarkable new throat remedy that is now being so largely and successfully prescribed by physicians in Great Britain, are now being made available for residents in China.

Representing the latest advance in scientific throat medication, these tablets, by reason of their Iodine content, are indubitably superior to any other pastilles or tablets that have yet been evolved by scientific research.

Their use is positively indicated in all cases of Sore and Ulcerated Throat, Hoarseness, Quinsy, Throat Catarrh, Tonsilitis, Laryngitis, etc.

As a highly efficient throat disinfectant when epidemics are rife, IODISED THROAT TABLETS indoubtedly excel any other preparation yet put upon the market.

ASSAILANT OF MANDARIN KIN IS ARRAIGNED

Former Bodyguard Admits Making Butcherly Assault On Nine

A remand of a week was ordered in the case of Wei Yuen-ding when he was arraigned in the Mixed Court before Assessor Blackburn and Magistrate Yui yesterday on a charge of running amuck with a meat chopper and wounding nine members of the household of the "Tiger Mandarin," Tsen Chuan-hsuan, ex-Viceroy of Kwantung, by whom he had formerly been employed as a personal bodyguard. The continuance was taken to permit the court to hear the testimony of some of the man's victims, who are still in so serious a condition that their presence in court yesterday was an impossibility.

Wei, who is a giant in stature and a former captain in the Chinese Army, freely admitted the charges made against him and even interrupted witnesses from time to time to correct them in their descriptions of the affair.

Attorney Anderson, of the firm of Anderson and Anderson appeared to presecute on behalf of the Mandarin. In an opening statement he declared that Wei had been an employe of the Mandarin's for twenty-eight years. He had been dismissed a week before the assault, and on the morning of May 28 had gone to the Mandarin's home in Hardoon's Garden on Bubbling Well Road, entered the room occupied by the second concubine, and hacked at the concubine, an amah, a daughter of the Mandarin, and a son. He had then rushed into an adjoining room occupied by the third concubine, chopped at her, and then wounded another amah and two other sons of the Mandarin. A maid servant was also attacked and received severe wounds about the head and body. She is still confined in the General Hospital.

Detective Sergeant Macdermott testified regarding a confession which Wei had made to the police following his arrest in a house on Siuza Road. He had admitted the assault, the detective said, and claimed that he was prompted to it in an effort to obtain revenge upon the two concubines, whom he believed responsible for his dismissal.

"HIS MASTER'S VOICE"

NEW RAIL CHIEF DISPENSES WITH COSTLY ADVISERS

Brother Of President Loses Nice $5,000 Per Month Job

(China Press Service)

Tiensin, June 5.—Kao En-hung, the new Minister of Communications, started his official career by abolishing five superfluous directors general, putting all the authority in the hands of the managers. Further, all assistant managerships are abolished together with all non-working advisorships. Among those holding advisorships are a brother of the president and relatives of several cabinet ministers who have been getting $5,000 a month each for their decorative presences.

In saving these salaries, a total of $250,000 a month has been lopped off the payroll of the Communications Ministry.

All railways will be placed on the budgets of the first year of the Republic and Kao estimates that the savings in the railway department will aggregate fully $30,000,000 yearly, while the savings in the Ministry will add another $10,000,000.

The policy of Kao En-hung and Tung Kang, the new Minister of Finance, is to fund all government loan obligations with a view to reviving government credit by employing existing securities and, if necessary, in addition the customs increases.

They rely on the savings in interest thus effected and the salary cuts, together with a businesslike administration, to make it possible to meet administrative expenses for which it is not proposed to borrow without first taking extraordinary measures.

Military expenses are to be met by provincial contributions which Wu Pei-fu has been asked to enforce. In return, Wu has been promised a million a month fror Peking, on which condition, he agrees to release the salt revenues and those of the Peking-Hankow railway which he has been collecting.

Tung Kang, interviewed yesterday, the day before the much dreaded Dragon Boat settling day, expressed himself as confident that the government would weather the day. He repaired to his office at 8 o'clock in the morning as usual and stated that his first task would be to replace all dishonest officials with men he could trust and then go ahead on his refunding program.

Tung Kang desires to wipe the the slate clean in this refunding and goes far beyond other Finance Ministers in planning a loan of $400,000,000.

This will wipe out all Japanese debts, which Wu Pei-fu has expressed the desire to see eradicated first of all. These alone total $180,000,000. The debt to Europe and American financiers is $80,000,000. This program will require several months for its working out.

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Peking, May 30.—The following appointments are announced:—

Mr. Chou Teh-shan, Chief of the Chefoo-Weihsien Railway becomes chief of the Railway Department of the Ministry of Communications; Mr. Hsu Chung-shih becomes Chief of the Telegraph Department.

Osaka Newspaper Calls Occupation Of Siberia A Blunder

(Dalta News Agency)

Yokohama, June 1.—The Osaka Asahi on the subject of Japanese intervention in Siberia, writes:

"About six hundred million yen of people's money have been spent for the intervention from its beginning. The prolongation of intervention is being explained by the necessity of protecting Japanese residents in the Russian Maritime Province. If this is the reason, then each Japanese in Siberia has cost the Japanese Government about one hundred thousand yen.

"And what becomes the result of this protection? Japanese colony has failed, relations between the Russians and Japanese are spoiled, trade has entirely stopped, and these very residents now raise their voice, imploring for evacuation!

"We hesitate to spend fifty million yen within our country for the sake of our people's education, while we deliberately throw away abroad a huge sum of six hundred millions, bringing shame upon our state and poverty upon our citizens. Is this insanity going to continne?"

Foochow Lumbermen Hard Hit By Flood

(China Press Correspondence)

Foochow, June 4.—During the past two months the water in the river has been higher than usual. It is reported some two million dollars worth of logs have been washed away by the flood. This has been hard for the lumbermen and also for the saw mills.

Rev. Frank D. Gamewell, Ph. D., Educational Secretary for the Methodist Educational Institutions in China, is visiting Foochow and trying to strengthen out some of the kinks of the Union Educational Work. He surely has some job on his hands.

The boat racing at the Dragon Boat Festival, which is one of the principle features of the occasion, was interfered with by the flood in the river. The water was so high on the great day that very few boats ventured out at all, and those which did soon put back to shore and safety again. We predict that at the fifth of the second fifth moon there will be a greater demonstration than there was at this time.

The repairs on the building which is to be used by the American-Oriental Bank are nearing completion and in a short time the Bank is expected to open for business.

At 5 o'clock Saturday the Methodist Missionaries and their friends met on the campus of the Methodist Woman's College of South China, Huanang, to witness the breaking of the sod of the new Lydia A. Trimble dormitory. This school has grown to such an extent that at the beginning of this year a temporary dormitory was erected to accommodate the students.

The British Consul, Mr. Walter J. Clennell, was at home Saturday, the occasion being the King's Birthday. A large company. Britons, Americans, Japanese and Chinese assembled and drank to the King's health. Although Mr. and Mrs. Clennell have been in the port but a short time their friends are numerous.

Shanghai Loses 5-2 To 37th Destroyer Division Nine; They Couldn't Hit

Three Scattered Bingles, Many Boots And All The Bad Breaks Lose Game

John Scott lost his game against the Navy yesterday afternoon at the Race Track diamond, in spite of first class pitching. He fanned a dozen batsmen; he got the only two assists credited to the Shanghai team, one a sharp peg to second when a navy runner took too long a lead, and the other the fast fielding of a sacrifice bunt. The 37th Destroyer flotilla won the seven inning game, 5-2.

Shanghai lost on its weak stick-work. The local players got but three scattered hits. They presented the Navy with three runs in the first inning on ragged play. Scott deserved a 0-0 tie. A homer to deep left with a man on base in the seventh gave the sailors their two earned tallies.

Hubbard booted one in the first frame. A single and a double followed and one sailor scored. After a fly-out to Wood, Bills juggled another little grounder letting the second run in, and then he stood around with the ball in his hand while the third run romped over. It was a bad inning for Shanghai, but they settled down immediately to fairly good ball, all excepting the inability to hit.

Scott found himself in a hole in the third inning when three singles filled the bases. He tightened up however and fanned the next man for the last out. He fanned the last man in every inning excepting the second. In the sixth he retired the side on strikes. Wall, on his first appearance in a local uniform held Scott up in great style for a man out of practice.

Hopkins scored the first run for Shanghai. He got safe on Tyler's bad throw to Morehead at first and went to second on a passed ball. French walked Hopkins and French stole. Then Cluni let Campbell's grounder through his legs as French was racing past in front of him, and Hoppy and French came in. Shanghai only got one other man past first base aside from those two tallies. Hopkins hit a hot one to Cornish in the second which was knocked down and over into the crowd. The hit let Hoppy go to second where he died.

Sailor Hopkins' twirling was one of the features of the very ordinary game. He kept the Shanghai men away from the ball for fairly easy outs. He and his team mates had all of the breaks of the game, but Hopkins' effectiveness against the local batters was the real cause for the win. Callery made a wonderful running catch in the fifth of Scott's long drive. Cornish speared a certain single off Wall's bat in the seventh for an easy out. Morehead at second always seemed to be out of position just enough to knock down likely drives. Pitcher Hopkins himself fielded four batted balls.

Shanghai plays the 38th Destroyer Division Saturday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock, and plays a return game with the 37th Sunday at the same time. Today and tomorrow the local men will get out for some muchly needed infield and batting practice.

Pitchers Wild In Pasadena, El Paso, Passyunk And Passaic League

BY "BUGS" BAER

Dear Sirum:

The writer of this letter is all worked up in short wave lengths perplexity. There is a rumor that Gink Fowler was once an umpire in the Three Eye League of Iowa, Indiana and Illinois.

If this is true, please deny it at once. Your radioshly,
TOOTS HOMER,
Beerbottle, Kansas.

That yours radioshly is new business. If Mr. Homer is trying to amplify us, we wish to refer him to our lawyers.

We stand for no nonsense, wireless or barbed. Although it is a hidden chapter in his police ledger, Gink Fowler stands up like the world's most debilitated hero and states that he accepts the vote of confidence.

The truth is finally loose. Gink Fowler was an umpire once. But no more.

But it wasn't in the Three Eye League or any other optical-delusion.

It was at a time in a man's career when the hopes of boyhood are souring in the illegal glare of the world's most famous cafeterias. Gink was not yet champion of Roughtown and the certified demispheres. He was just a bird in a gilded jail.

He was hungry and had lots of competition. It was a case of dog eat dog and the butcher take the hindmost.

Gink had got into the habit of eating and he didn't like to break his furlough. So rather than make an honest living scampering up porch columns, he accepted an offer to umpire for the duration of peace.

He officiated in the famous Boot League. All the players were Boot Leaguers.

It was a five team circuit. Roughtown, Bummburg, Toughville, West Horror and Axadent.

Umpires lasted about as long as peanuts at a circus, but Gink accepted the papers and went to work with a new abiding faith in humanity.

First Hole In One Of Season Is Made By Baltusrol Golfer

The honor of being the first 1922 golfer in the metropolitan district to become eligible to the "Hole-in-One" Club has fallen to the lot of H. W. Spicer of the Baltusrol Club. Playing to the eleventh hole at Baltusrol on April 12, Spicer had the supreme satisfaction of seeing his ball drop on the green and wend its way into the cup. The hole measures 148 yards. Another notable achievement was that of S. M. Wild, who covered the last nine holes in thirty-one strokes, one less than the previous record. He had birdies at the twelfth, thirteen, sixteenth and seventeenth and an eagle at the fifteenth. The others were made in par figures. His card was 4 3 4 2 4 3 4 3 4—31.

Tokio, June 6.—Hosei University baseball team lost to the University of California nine here today in a loose game by the score of 11-9.

Why Suffer from Rheumatism?

Do you know that nine out of every ten cases of rheumatism are simply rheumatism of the muscles or chronic rheumatism, neither of which require any internal treatment? The pain may be relieved by applying Chamberlain's Liniment, which makes sleep and rest possible, and that certainly means a great deal to any one afflicted with rheumatism.

CALIFORNIA NET MEN WIN OVER MEIJI PLAYERS

(Eastern News Agency)

Tokio, June 6.—The University of California tennis team, composed of Captain Wally Bates, Alex Wilson, Carrol Jensen and Brick Conrad, handily defeated the Meiji University team today.

The Californians won three out of five singles matches and took both doubles games.

The Shanghai Lawn Tennis Association yesterday opened negotiation with the University of California tennis team and in all probability the Americans will be seen in action against local players between July 1 and 10.

The Tennis Association will select the opponents for the visitors and will stage all the games.

SPORTS FEATURE OF JULY FOURTH PROGRAM HERE

A baseball game between the U. S. S. Huron and Shanghai and athletics at a picnic and lawn party to be held for the American children of Shanghai will be features of the celebration of July Fourth here.

The athletic program will come in the afternoon, following a flag raising and reception at the Consulate and open house at the American Club.

The picnic and lawn party will be at 5 o'clock and after the sport program and daylight fireworks, a basket lunch will be served.

LAWN BOWLS

The Junior Golf Club will be visitors at the Shanghai Lawn Bowls Club rinks Saturday afternoon and six rinks a side will be played.

On Sunday afternoon the Yangtszepoo Lawn Bowls Club will be entertained at the Shanghai Recreation Club, the match having been postponed from May 27.

California Nine Opens Series In Japan With 7-3 Win Over Meiji U.

Hard Hitting Americans Who May Play Here Show To Good Advantage

(China Press Service)

Tokio, June 2.—The California Collegians, a baseball team composed partly by varsity material from the University of California, won from Meiji University 7 to 3 yesterday afternoon in the curtain raiser of a series of games to be played within the next two weeks. The Californians outhit and outplayed the local nine at every stage of the game, knocking two pitchers out of the box. Watanabe, Meiji's star hurler, took the mound in the seventh inning in order to stop the onslaught, and although he held the collegians scoreless, Meiji could not overcome the safe lead piled up in the earlier stage of the game.

Joe Mitchell, pitcher for California, who is the only member of the team that toured the Orient last year pitched a pleasing game, retiring eight men and seemed to work best when he had an opposing player or two on base. Unlike the Indiana nine which recently returned to the States after a series here all the California players can hit, and look more like a baseball team in the field.

The score by innings follows:

Calif ..	0 0 3 0 0 4 0 0 0—7,	8,	5
Meiji ..	0 1 0 0 0 0 1 1 0—3,	5,	2

Batteries: Mitchell and Armstrong; Nidagawa, Watanabe and Umeda.

New Railway Chief Plans Complete Reorganisation

(Chung Mei Service)

Peking, June 2.—"The Ministry of Communications must be considered and run as a business corporation and not as a political institution," said Minister Kao Erhung, of the Board of Communications in a special interview given to the Chung Mei News Service. "Unless drastic means are taken at once to save them, the railroads of China will be totally bankrupt. There is an enormous expenditure at present and practically no income. Expenses must be cut and the railroads must be cleared of the military."

The new minister speaks with earnestness and he has settled down in to what he himself terms "the hot water." He lives at the Ministry and he starts work at 7 o'clock. The present interview was at 7 although the Minister had originally suggested 6 a.m. All officials now must be at their desks at eight and failure to observe this rule means dismissal. Small, wiry, and energetic, speaking fluently both English and French the Board of Communications has a leader quite different from the former official type.

His arrival in the Ministry is typical. A private car had been arranged to bring him from Tientsin. Crowds of officials were waiting at the station to greet him. But no Minister arrived. Rather he had declined the private car, preferring to travel on a regular train as a common passenger in order to see how conditions were. He saw.

STANDS FIVE HOURS

The train from Tientsin was crowded and the new Minister of Communications, stood up all the way, five hours, from Tientsin to Peking to assume his official duties.

"Things are in terrible shape," said Minister Kao. "Take the Peking-Hankow line for instance. Formerly the revenues amounted to $2,000,000 a month. Now there is practically nothing coming in and there are large expenses for upkeep and personnel to be met. The military controls the line. This must stop. I have asked General Wu to give back the line to the Ministry. The Revenue must not be collected by soldiers direct for their pay. In this way the line is ruined. I hope that the line will soon be fully under the control of the Board of Communications again."

"Take the Peking-Kalgan line. Under present conditions the earnings are not more than $3,000 a month while interest upon money advanced for equipment alone is a charge of more than Taels 30,000 a month. There is at present no revenue from the Peking-Mukden line, that being dominated by the military. The Tientsin Pukow line never has been particularly lucrative and may be disregarded from a revenue point of view and the other lines are no better.

SEES SUN'S FINISH

"The two ends of the Hankow-Canton line are rather useless and about the first thing we must do is to complete this line. Then we will have a line that will pay and then there will be no more of the business of Dr. Sun Yat-sen. When we get the railroad through General Wu Pei-fu will be able to take one division and go straight down to Canton and then finish Mr. Sun."

He was very determined on the necessity for immediate and drastic economy, and said:

"The Ministry of Communications must be cut down to the budget of the first year of the republic. Then the pay roll was about $30,000 a month. Now it is more than $200,000. There were then 160 employees. There are now over 1,200. We cannot quit get along with the same amount as in the beginning since the business has grown. But we can approximate it. It will probably be necessary to discharge three fourths of the present Ministry staff or nearly 900 men. Those left must work hard. Office hours are to be from 8 to 12 and from 2 to 6 and they shall be observed from the highest official to the lowest clerk.

DRASTIC ECONOMY

"The expenses of the railroads must also be reduced. There are far too many employees. In the entire transaction there is too much politics. I do not feel in taking over this job in assuming a government office. Rather it is as if I had taken charge of a large corporation which was rapidly approaching bankruptcy and the utmost economy and skill were needed to pull it through."

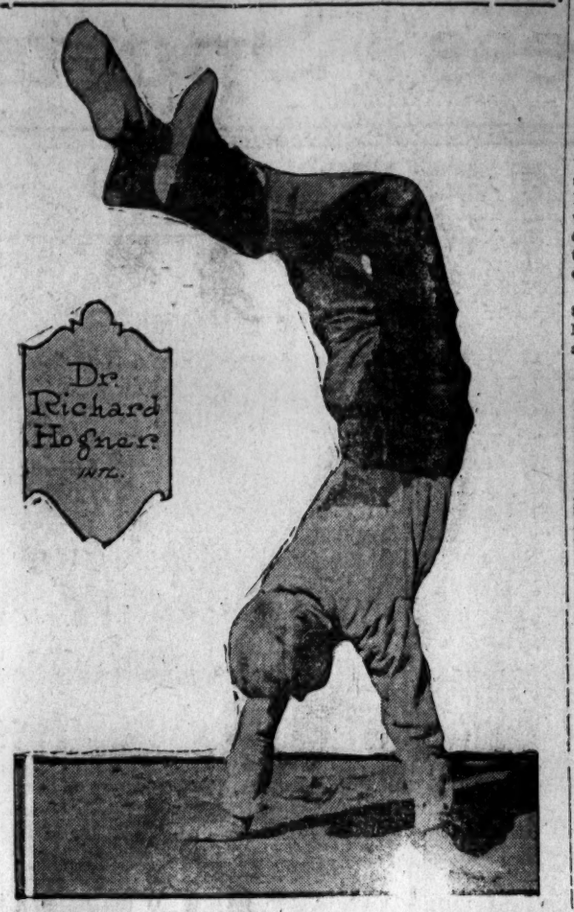
Minister Kao has also cleaned up the Ministry of Communications physically. All of the servants have been instructed to sweep up and the Ministry offices look more spick and span than for some time.

The first order which Minister Kao issued abolished all sinecure jobs such as the managing directorships of projected railways where there is no work in progress and no operation. He has also made all the adviserships and councillorships other than the four regular councillors of the Ministry of Communications honorary. That is to say he has stopped their pay. He has also abolished many different assistant chiefs and co-directorships on the theory that the chiefs and directors can do their own work.

Kao has sent three telegrams urging Dr. C. C. Wang to accept the Vice Ministership although the latter has as yet not replied. It is believed that the telegrams went astray.

He has appointed Mr. Chau Tah-sen as Director General of Railroads. He was formerly Managing Director of the Weisien-Chefoo line.

He's A Very Gay And Agile Young Man!



A GAY and agile "young" fellow is Dr. Richard Hogner, seventy-year-old Boston man. If you want to live long, he says, walk on your hands several times each day. This exercise, he asserts, will keep you young and vigorous.

HOW TO "GROW" A NEW COMPLEXION

These are the days of "hustling." In a week we see and do more than our grandmothers did in a year. We are gradually turning nature to be our servant; we use her great forces against herself. We have conquered sea and sky, now our doctors are fighting not only disease, but old age. There is talk of rejuvenating human beings by the injection of animal glands, but as yet, only the few can avail themselves of the treatment.

There is, however, one secret of perpetual youth that is in the reach of everyone. Scientists now realise that the only way of keeping the skin young and fresh is to examine Nature's methods and to find some way of imitating her.

SCIENTIFIC BEAUTY.

In order to explain the new method of keeping the complexion perpetually youthful, one must understand something of the nature of the skin. A baby's skin is always clear and smooth because the outer layer is always invisibly peeling off, and new layers are forming just as fast underneath, so that the exposed skin is always fresh, unwrinkled and "new."

For the first few years of our lives, this peeling is a purely natural process, but as we grow older, we gradually lose the power of throwing off our old soiled outer skins, so that our complexions become lined and yellow, and the new skin has no chance to show itself.

A few years ago, a scientific chemist realised that a little-known substance called mercolised wax, was exactly what was needed to "keep nature up to the mark." It appears that this substance, which is now unversally obtainable, gently and painlessly assists nature in throwing off the soiled outer cuticle. The skin is thus perpetually renewed, and a clear youthful complexion can be preserved to any age. (Advt.)

"Bulbul"

A capacity audience yesterday greeted the students of the American School when they staged the comic opera "Bulbul" at the Olympic Theater, and the round after round of applause which followed practically every number was a fitting tribute to the efforts of the student players and the effective staging of Miss Bernice L. Austin of the faculty, who directed the work. At the conclusion of the performance the entire audience arose and cheered Miss Austin.

Particularly noteworthy was the singing and acting of Miss Nettie Junkin in the title role, and that of Oliver Caldwell as King Iamit. Miss Ruth Estes, as Ida, the court chaperon, furnished a comedy element that kept the audience rocking in bursts of laughter. The piano accompaniment for the score was played by Miss Loretta Crawford.

Try and Imagine This

First, a long, cool Kaintucky-style mint julep in a frosty glass and with a sprig of mint from the garden perched atop. And you're sitting on a wide verandah awatching the steamer lights down the river. The only lady is opposite and maybe the moon's ashining.

And then, presently, a soft-footed and deft-handed waiter brings in a dinner planned by an artist. A meal chosen with regard to the place and the time o' year. And then perhaps a dance or two and a quiet corner out on the lawn with the stars atwinkling down. And after a while a motor ride that's not too long and not too short—you know the kind.

"Where is it?" you ask? Why it's THE POINT—out by the Riverside.

Charlie Hannigs, that genial restaurateur from Tientsin side has taken over The Point. He's renovated it from bottom to top, employed a French Chef who is a Chef, and trained a staff of boys in a way of doing things that you wont find anywhere else in Shanghai.

"I TELL YOU

ITS A BEAR !"

And The Point is quickly becoming the dinner Place of this Town. Charlie is an old Service man and knows how to extend a welcome. Ask any Army or Navy man. Come and spend an evening by the Riverside—you'll come again. If it's a party you're bringing out better phone "East 4-9-4" first and tell Charlie whats wanted.

20 YEARS OF INDIGESTION

Completely Banished by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills.

Sufferers from long standing indigestion learn by experience how utterly useless it is to rely upon the ordinary indigestion mixtures, tablets, etc., for any permanent benefit. But indigestion's victims will find a message of hope in the following statement made by Mrs. Clack, of 5, Osborne Road, Action, London, England.

"For twenty years," she said, "I was a victim of indigestion. I suffered untold agony, with pains in the chest and through the shoulders. Everything I ate caused me great suffering I vomited pints of water. I could not sleep; my head ached terribly. For years I was taking medicines without avail.

"Then Dr. Williams' pink pills were recommended to me, and one bottle was sufficient to make me realise their wonderful powers, so I continued with the pills. My headaches gradually disappeared, and my appetite became better. Soon I could eat without feeling any ill effects, and could sleep 'like a top.' Now I am quite well, all signs of indigestion having disappeared."

You, too, can improve your digestion by beginning Dr. Williams' pink pills now. Of dealers; or direct from the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., 96 Szechuen Road, Shanghai, at $1.50 per bottle, $8 per six bottles, post free.

12 REELS OF HUMOR —AND PATHOS— 12

With an art that has never been exceeded—and rarely approached—this production will give you thrill after thrill, surprise after surprise, and leave you happily convinced that a wonderful dramatic story can faithfully be made into an equally wonderful photoplay.

The Home of the Soul.

In olden times, it was believed that the seat of the soul was the stomach, most likely for the reason that a man is never so completely used up as when his stomach is out of order. For the cure of ordinary stomach troubles, there is nothing quite so prompt and satisfactory as Chamberlain's Tablets. They strengthen the stomach and enable it to perform its functions naturally. Give them a trial. They only cost a quarter.

Spot bar silver was down ⅝d. and forward 3⅛d. in London yesterday.

The New York price declined to 70¾ cents, and the London-New York cross rate is unchanged at 450¼.

The official rates here today were unchanged from yesterday, and the market was firm throughout the morning.

At the opening business in Sterling was done at 3-5⅜ for July and August, and in Gold Dollars at 78¼ for the same deliveries.

However, speculators became strong sellers, and the market became very firm and closed with sellers of Sterling at 3-6¼ for June-July, and of Gold Dolars at 79¼ for the same deliveries.

There were a few bills offering today which tended to further strengthen the market.

India and China both sold silver in London yesterday, and the market there, as well as in New York, is reported as closing steady.

Vertical Flier Not Yet Perfected

(Reuter's Service)

London, June 6.—Newspaper reports of the success of the helicopter are apparently premature. Mr. Louis Brennan, in the course of an interview at Aldershot, said that the machine had not yet been out of its shed and would not be tested till autumn. It was impossible to tell from experiments with the model whether the full-size machine would fulfil the Air Ministry's conditions.

The Star, however, learns that while the Air Minister does not yet consider the machine perfected, remarkable progress has been made towards solving the problem of vertical flight.

It is officially stated that the offer of the Air Ministry of a £50,000 reward for a successful helicopter is still open.

Reconstruction In China—How?

(Note: The following article from the pen of Mr. Hopkins Fang of Wusih throws open a wide field of discussion among both Chinese and foreigners. The Republic of China has reached another cross roads. Good opportunity for direct decision and progress again is offered. Letters from our readers along the lines indicated will be welcome).

I SHALL be very much obliged if you can find space for the publication of a few suggestions I have in mind on national reconstruction. It is, I know, a subject that is engaging the earnest attention of Chinese patriots and also the foreign well-wishers of the Republic. Feelings of optimism regarding the future of China have been inspired by such recent developments in the political situation as the downfall of the mal-administration of the crafty Hsu Shih-chang, the sweeping dismissals of parasites in the Ministry of Finance and the Ministry of Communications, and the proposed reinstatement of Ex-President Li Yuan-hung.

However, the advent of genuine reconstruction can only be brought about by drastic changes which cut at the root of the evils that have been responsible for corruption in high places. Dr. Yat-sen, the founder of the Chinese Republic, made a big mistake in 1911 by meeting the corrupt officials of the Tsing Dynasty in a spirit of compromise instead of insisting on fundamental changes.

To carry out the work of national reconstruction in China, thorough reforms must be at once introduced into the fields of education and politics. The writer maintains that at present the Chinese educational and political systems are both at grave fault and must not be perpetuated.

Education: In the past the Chinese mind has been fed on a literature that has not been conducive to independent thinking. If you analyse the contents of the Four Books and the Five Classics and other Confucian publications, you will find that the teachings contained therein have no close practical relation to spiritual and material civilisation. However, these books were the instruments which absorbed or dried up the thinking powers and imaginations of the scholars, and this was what the selfish emperors wanted. Books were also written by the statesmen of the various dynasties. They were written in a spirit of depression which led the reader to see the world through the spectacles of pessimism. So much for the old learning.

Do our modern educational institutions supply the right type of training to the students? The answer must be made in the negative. There is too much emphasis laid on the theoretical side of education, leaving the practical side very inadequately trained. We need so to overhaul our educational system that it will not only develop our citizens along the lines of independent republican thinking but will clothe the theoretical culture with the cloak of practicality. In this way we may hope to see a rising generation of practical democrats who will make China a progressive and prosperous nation.

Politics: The question has been asked more than once when the problem of the administrative needs of China is discussed: Centralisation or decentralisation: which suits China best? The writer does not for one moment doubt the importance of having a strong central government to take care of the duties which it is particularly fitted to discharge. But the time has come for giving decentralisation in the form of federal government a fair trial. China covers 30,000,000 square li in area and has a population roughly estimated at 400,000,000. With China's systems of communication and transportation still in the stage of infancy, it is humanly impossible for the Central Government to be in constant touch with provincial conditions at close range so as to legislate wisely and effectively and thus serve the best interests of the people.

With the enforcement of federalism there will come true self-government in the provinces. The Provincial Assembly will become the instrument for effective interpretation of the wishes of the people. The custom of appointing non-local men to the highest civil and military positions in a province will be discarded. We cannot have healthy national politics without placing provincial politics on a sound basis.

Education and decentralisation are only two phases of the gigantic enterprise of national reconstruction. Attention must also be drawn to such momentous issues as the abolition of the tuchunate, the reduction of the troops, the development of industries to encourage and safeguard investments, the improvement of transportation and communication, etc. Fellow-countrymen, we must bestir ourselves to reorganise our national affairs. Now is the time to begin. Let us all make a long pull, a strong pull and a pull all together!

Marcosson Interviews Japan's Prince Regent

The following article by Isaac Marcosson, the most famous interviewer in the world, appears in the current issue of the Saturday Evening Post. In view of the resignation of Premier Takahashi and the illness of Prince Saionji, both recorded in cables of Tuesday, the article is unusually timely.

"In no other country is the sovereign venerated to the degree that obtains in Japan," writes Isaac F. Marcosson in The Saturday Evening Post in introducing his article entitled "An Audience With the Japanese Prince Regent." The article is the first of a series on the political and economic situation in the Far East and is the account of the audience granted Mr. Marcosson when he was in Tokio in March.

"I have had other audiences with royalty," the noted writer states, "but none was so difficult of approach, none so hedged in by convention. Nor did any represent such strange blending of feudal suggestion and background with the more practical things that make for modernity."

After giving illustrations showing the sanctity and exclusiveness that attach to the person of a ruler of Japan, Mr. Marcosson writes: "As I watched the slight, spectacled, young Prince Regent and listened to his carefully enunciated words, I could not help realising that he is destined to occupy a distinct and perhaps lonely place in world affairs. Possibly my recent years of contact with the wreckage of old orders in Europe fostered the thought. It is summed up in a single sentence. The Imperial circle, as it might be called, is narrowing.

"Russia, Germany, Austria, Turkey have all passed into the twilight. Ordinarily you do not associate the emperor business with King George, because he is the essence of the democratic spirit, and England is to all intents and purposes a crowned republic. Besides, it is not among the impossibilities that self-determination will some day pluck the jewel that Beaconsfield placed upon the diadem of Queen Victoria when he made her Empress of India. Japan may be the last of the empires.

"So far as it is humanly possible to predict anything in these cataclysmic times, Japan will remain an empire. The zeal for the royal family—it is almost fanaticism—leaves no doubt as to this eventuality. Thus, unlike some of his European colleagues, Prince Hirohito is sure of his succession if he lives. He need never worry about radical intrigue. He is Emperor in everything but name now.

JAPAN FACING A CRISIS

"Yet amid this adoration for royalty, the guaranteed perpetuity of its rule and the traditional rights vested with the All-Highest, the Emperor of Japan has little more real authority than King George. Although Meiji, who has been called the Lincoln of his country, was a strong and forceful personality, he was swayed and his long and eventful reign was shaped by the Elder Statesmen. But the leaders among these Genro, as they were named, have all passed away. The last of the lions was Prince Yamagata, who died on February first of this year. Although there are still two surviving Genro—Marquis Matsukata and Prince Saionji—they were never dominant factors in the rule of the country as was Yamagata. Marquis Matsukata in now 88 years old and lives in retirement in Kamakura, a summer resort not far from Tokio. Prince Saionji is younger, but is no longer a strong figure in the councils of the nation.

"With the regency or Prince Hirohito—it began last November—Japan began to face a crisis that is more momentuous than the acute situation precipitated by the friction with the United States over the California alien law. This crisis is internal and effects the welfare of all the people. It is therefore impossible to comprehend the personality and the possibilities of the Prince Regent without knowing just how it began, what it means and where it may lead. Whatever happens, as head of the nation he must be a conspicuous figure in a drama that will affect the whole Orient.

"It all goes back to the Constitution, which was largely the work of the late Prince Ito, the Bismarck of Japan and lit mate of Yamagata in the councils of the Genro. This document, which was promulgated in 1889, strongly resembles the German Constitution of that period. German influence I might add, has always been potent in shaping Japanese policy, especially on the military side.

"Although the Constitution theoretically provided for the establishment of a constitutional monarchy, and was supposed to mark the change from an absolute to a limited monarchy, it did not bring about the equivalent of parliamentary government under a limited monarchy as we have come to know these institutions in Europe.

"Though the traditions of divine right and absolutism have been maintained for centuries the Emperor, as I have intimated, has always been more or less a figurehead, his actual influence being a function of his own force and personality.

GIVE SECRET OF WAR OFFICE

"Up to the present time there has been no parliamentary government in which the power of public opinion eventually determines the policy of the state. The immemorial right of the British House of Commons or the American Congress to exercise control over ministers by refusing appropriations, for example, which has had such an important influence on political development in the United States and England, has no counterpart in Japan. If a budget introduced by the government fails to pass, the budget of the preceding year is continued in force. The Diet is something of a joke. What it lacks in power it makes up in noise. Its principal expression is criticism, in which it exceeds any other similar body.

"Another drawback to real parliamentary government—and it bears on the Japanese crisis of today—lies in a provision of the Constitution that the Ministers of War and Navy must be active or retired officers of the army and navy respectively. This has enabled the so-called military party to bring pressure upon the government, for any cabinet must fall if either the minister of War or the Minister of Navy resigns. The War Department and not the Foreign Office has dictated the foreign policy, and behind the War Office brooded the Genro.

"Now we come to the crux of the present business. Up to the time of the Hirohito Regency the Genro influence was all dominant. The Elder Statesmen not only named Premiers and the Ministers of War and Navy, but they formed an extra-constitutional body responsible only to the Emperor himself. Originally they came into being because, after the Restoration, the Emperor needed wise counsel. But there is no doubt that their authority grew until it vastly exceeded any other power in the land, not excepting the Constitution. In a word, the Genro were the masters of Japan.

"The Yamagata domination gave Japan her place in the sun because it built up an army and navy that caused her to be reckoned with as a great power. But long before Yamagata died some of his influence began to wane. Like Wellington, his military genius outweighed his political sagacity, and the old war horse—he was eighty-four when he died—or rather the system for which he stood drew the lightning of popular wrath.

LIBERALISM WAKE IN JAPAN

"For months prior to the Washington conference Liberals like Yukio Ozaki had thundered against increasing armaments, and expanding army, forceful economic penetration—all that militarism implies. There was nothing particularly altruistic about this protest procedure. It called for relief from an excessive burden of taxation and from a policy that farseeing men knew was planting the seeds of future international trouble.

"Slowly liberalism waked in Japan. It began to express itself, for one thing, in the demand for universal suffrage and free speech. I have seen nearly a hundred thousand people packed around the Diet buildings in an attempt to influence a favorable vote on the suffrage bill. Even birth control began, later on, to get an unofficial hearing. If you knew how many babies there are in Japan, and how each little life has been welcomed as just one more prop for the army and navy, you would realise what

STRANGE SIGHTS

Congratulations to Professor Clementi Onelli, of the Buenos Aires Zoological Gardens, on being the first modern man to see a plesiosaurus. Hitherto we understood the creature was extinct, but the strange marine reptile from another age came up the other day in Lake Chubut, in the Andes and gave the learned professor a glimpse of the vanishing past.

We have seen a real plesiosaurus!
The creature disported before us.
We saw it swim out—
But there still is a doubt
As to whether the plesio—saurus.

BITS FROM BOOKS

"Lord Randolph Churchill once prepared a mysterious Budget which was to exceed by far in importance the efforts of any of his predecessors in office. The story of its making is not less interesting than that of its contents.

"'I wish you would put those figures plainly so that I can understand them,' he said to the clerk who laid some data before him. As he had done his best and reduced them to decimals, the clerk wildly protested.

"'Oh! I never could understand what those damned dots meant,' replied Lord Randolph."—The Lighter Side of Politics, by The Under-Secretary.

Marcosson Interviews Japan's Prince Regent

sacrilege lay in the birth-control idea. Everywhere there were signs of revolution.

"In the midst of all this more or less inarticulate stirring Prince Hirohito became Regent. Almost coincident with his assumption of the higher station a tragic blow was struck at what might be called the popular will. It was the assassination of Premier Hara. Essentially man of the people, he had risen by sheer character and efficiency. Already the Japanese call him the Great Commoner.

"Mr. Hara broke all the traditions of the Genro rule by taking over the portfolio of the Minister of the Navy when Admiral Baron Kato went to the Washington Conference. It was the first time that a civilian had ever filled this post and Hara thought he was establishing a precedent that would break up the military clique. He did more than this, for he was opposed to the custom of individual ministerial responsibility to the Emperor and sought to substitute for it a joint responsibility of the entire cabinet, following the British example. The whole Hara idea was for wider exercise of party influence on national affairs.

"Though Hara's death was a deplorable political loss the process of transition in Japan was too well under way to be stopped. It gained momentum from the Washington conference. Viewed at first with suspicion and alarm by the Japanese bureaucracy, it proved to be a godsend to a country whose military obsession was driving it toward bankruptcy.

TAKES RESPONSIBILITY

"The conference put the spot light on the whole Japanese plan of expansion and sterilised some of its undesirable features. It was another step toward what many Liberals call the emancipation of Japan from machine rule.

"The passing of Yamagata was a further breach in the wall of reaction. The big question in Japan today is: 'Has the Genro type of rule, which made for might at the expense of economic welfare at home and political peace abroad, declined?' This and many other problems of Japan, however, will be dealt with in succeeding articles. The task here is to place the Prince Regent in the moving picture of his times.

"It is evident that he has taken over his responsibilities at a critical period in the nation's history, and when the menace is from within and not from without. It is also a time when the personality and resource of the head of the empire, whatever they may be, have an unprecedented opportunity for assertion.

"No sooner had he assumed his new rank than he began to justify the hope that he would develop into more than a figurehead. He displayed interest in large affairs and, thanks to his trip to Europe last year, has been able to bring a larger world viewpoint to local questions. He attended meetings of the Privy Council and he now presides at a few choice and exclusive gatherings. He took up horseback riding and thus set a fashion for the Tokio smart set. Even in so mild a diversion as this he was breaking new ground, for no ruler before had ever established a precedent for anything. Court etiquette invariably has perscribed every daily task.

"I went to Japan to try to make some apprisal of the consequences of the Washington conference. I expected to find those inevitable changes born of a reversal of international policy. I not only discovered these but many more. While Europe is slowly beginning to stabilise itself after the wreck and ravage of the World War, Japan, who knew only profit in that great struggle, is facing a whirlwind due to inflation, profiteering and extravagance. Thus the empire is undergoing drastic economic as well as political readjustment."

GRANTED AUDIENCE

Mr. Marcosson then describes the difficulties that beset him in securing an audience, which was finally secured largely through the aid given by the American Ambassador, Mr. Warren. The negotiations, he writes, "got down to two qualifications: Had I ever been presented at a European court, and did I want an actual interview for publication? Happily I was able to qualify on the first count, and verbally, through the Ambassador, I gave my word that I would not quote the Prince Regent on any political subject.

"Meanwhile a month had passed and I began to despair of success. The Ambassador, however, kept on plugging the game, and he succeeded. One Monday evening, exactly four weeks after I arrived, I called up the office of the Minister of Foreign Affairs to find out about a statement that Count Uchida was preparing for me. The first thing his confidential secretary said was, 'I congratulate you on your good luck.' When I asked him what had happened to me he said, 'You are to have an audience with the Prince Regent on Wednesday morning at 10:30 o'clock.'

"It appears that the Ambassador had been officially apprised during the afternoon, but he was out making a speech. I met him that night at a dinner and he told me that everything was arranged and that a final disposition had been made that I ask no questions that would involve the Prince in a discussion of politics.

"The way was now clear and the usual instructions for attire attendant upon such a visit were given. In England and Belgium it is customary nowadays to wear a morning coat at a daytime audience. Formerly the frock coat was used, but since the war it has fallen more or less into disrepute, although you can still call on King George attired in one. In Japan, however, the frock coat continues to maintain its prestige, and it is the favorite costume for cabinet officials and Diet members.

Children Cry for Fletcher's
CASTORIA
Fletcher's Castoria is particularly a preparation for Infants and Children made agreeable to the taste, acceptable to the stomach and pleasant in its action. It has been in use for over thirty years and has always been one of the most highly esteemed of all cathartic preparations. It has one great advantage over other preparations of its kind in that while it opens the organs readily and completely, it does not have a tendency to produce subsequent constipation so much to be dreaded.
It was only after years of research in the fields of herbs and roots for a combination of purely vegetable matter that would have all the virtues of Castor Oil, without its disagreeable, nauseating properties, especially when used for infants or children, that the formula used in Fletcher's Castoria was found, and which for over 30 years has proven its worth. Try it.
Save the Babies.
Infantry mortality is something frightful. We can hardly realise that of all the children born in ivilised countries, twenty-two per cent., or nearly one quarter die before they reach one year, thirty-seven per cent., or more than one-third, before they are five, and one half before they are fifteen! We do not hesitate to say that a timely use of Castoria would save many of these precious lives. Neither do we hesitate to say that many of these infantile deaths are occasioned by the use of narcotic preparations. Drops, tinctures and soothing syrups sold for children's complaints contain more or less opium or morphine. They are, in considerable quantities, deadly poisons. In any quantity, they stupefy, retard circulation and lead to congestion, sickness, death. To avoid any possibility of giving your child opiates, or narcotics of any kind, keep Fletcher's Castoria in the house, and Save the Babies.

Everything The Best

"Quality Sells, because it Tells"

Yes, there is no doubt about that, and we have recognised it from the first, making "quality" our principal aim. Nothing will do us but the best, irrespective of expense. No amount of advertising, pushing, etc., will help us, if the quality of our products is not of the best, it would simply mean so much money wasted. And in nothing is "quality more telling with the public than with the articles they consume, such as Aerated beverages. Our reward has been the enormously increased demand for our and their general popularity. If you have not tried them, you have not tried the best.

Chang Tso-lin To Have New Chance If He Will Behave

(China Press Correspondence)

Paotingfu, June 5.—General Wu Pei-fu has completed military plans for the pacification of the entire nation. He has at last accepted the responsibility which his friends and advisers have insisted is his and is now setting out to do for China what Bismarck did for Germany, although he prefers to call George Washington rather than Bismarck his model. The reunification, he trusts, will be accomplished largely through political means, but if the power of the sword is required he will not hesitate to use it.

The present advance against Chang Tso-lin will not, as previously intimated, extend into Manchuria at the present time. General Wu is taking over the three Special Areas north of the Great Wall but is not entering Fengtien province. He is drawing his lines at Shanhaikwan pass. Nor will be actively ally himself with the insurgents against Chang Tso-lin in his own provinces. General Wu still seems to incline to the idea that no one is more fitted to govern the Three Eastern Provinces than Chang Tso-lin, provided Chang will confess his mistakes, renounce all political alliances and show a sincere determination to confine his authority, under the new President to his own three provinces.

CHANCE FOR CHANG

Should Chang succeed in maintaining himself against his enemies at home and evidence subordination and loyalty to the new President, he will probably be officially reinstated. Should he fall before one of his former subordinates, this man, in event he succeed in pacifying the three provinces, will be recognised as a candidate for the position formerly held by Chang. At any rate Manchuria is to be cut off from China and left to take care of itself while political affairs in Peking and political and if necessary military affairs in the south are liquidated.

General Wu's program now provides for his remaining in Paotingfu for a month, during which time he expects to see the old Parliament reassemble and reinstated in Peking under President Li Yuan-hung and the new Cabinet well on the way to organisation. He will then make a trip to Tientsin, possibly visiting Peking, in the course of which journey he will apportion the permanent garrisons along the Manchurian border and throughout Chihli, Shantung and Honan. It is possible that he will go north as far as Shanhaikwan. Turning back, he will proceed down the Tientsin-Pukow Railway through Shantung to Hsuchowfu: then, across to Kaifeng where he will make a final disposition of military affairs in Honan. From Honan he will proceed to Hankow, and from this center will direct the pacification of Kweichow and Kwangsi and any other of the southwest provinces which may require pacification measures by that time.

Upon hearing of Hsu Shih-chang's departure from Peking General Wu said, "Now if Sun Yat-sen will follow Hsu's example, he will receive our sincere thanks." Should Sun have left Canton by the time Wu takes up his position in Hankow, no military measures, it is anticipated, will be required to bring about the elimination of the Canton Government and the union of Canton with the rest of the country. Should Sun and his bitter-enders still remain in power in Canton, however, Wu will direct military measures from Hankow, calculated to put a quick finish to pretentions of independence in Canton city.

PLANS EXPEDITION

The union of China proper having been accomplished, Wu will turn his attention again toward Manchuria. Should The Three Eastern Provinces by that time (estimated at next spring) be under the effective control of some man or several men giving sincere allegiance to the President and Central Government, Wu will not interfere. Should this not be the case or should disruption prevail, General Wu will despatch an expedition of three divisions by three routes, one via the Peking-Mukden Railway, another via Jehol overland, and a third via Kalgan overland, which would make short work of taking over the strategic positions in the Three Provinces.

General Wu gives no assurance that he will go outside of his program to get back the rolling stock of the Peking-Mukden Railway seized by Chang Tso-lin, although he believes that this will soon be delivered up to the railway authorities. Since the Peking-Mukden Railway is under foreign protection and the rolling stock seized by Chang is still under mortgage to the foreign suppliers, General Wu and his staff consider that the return of the rolling stock to the railway is really a problem for the foreign railway authorities and the diplomatic corps. "I know the foreign interests involved would like to have us do the job for them," said Chief of Staff Chang, "and we would be glad to oblige them as well as to assist in this manner the resumption of normal traffic, which concerns the prosperity of us Chinese, if our military plans in other directions were not concerned. But just now our strength is insufficient, and we will have to leave the problem to the legations."
